三、克漏字測驗【請依照段落上下文意，選出最適當的答案】

第一篇：

Truth be told, any time is a good time to be somewhere in Australia. When it's cold down south, it's magnificent in the north and the centre; when it's too hot and sweaty up north, the southern states are at their natural finest. There are also the 31 festivals and other public spectacles that are on show every month, from the summertime food-and-wine banquets and large-scale concerts, through mid-year arts celebrations, 32 end-of-year footy finals, horse races and yachting contests.

The seasons in Australia are the antithesis of 33 in Europe and North America. Summer is December to February; the weather and longer daylight hours are tailor-made for swimming and other outdoor activities 34 much of the country. Summer is also school holiday period and consequently high season for most places. Unless you want to compete with hordes of grimly determined local holiday-makers in 'Are we there yet?' mode for road space, places on tours, seats on transport, hotel rooms, camp sites, restaurant tables and the best vantage points at major attractions, you should try to 35 Australia's prime destinations during the peak of school (January) and public holidays. During these times, you're also likely to encounter spontaneous rises in the price of everything from accommodation to petrol.

- 【1】31. ① numerous                      ② infamous                      ③ populous                      ④ tenacious
 【3】32. ① after                      ② before                      ③ to                      ④ at 【2】33. ① that                      ② those                      ③ which                      ④ what
 【2】34. ① beyond                      ② across                      ③ opposite                      ④ from
 【4】35. ① destroy                      ② divide                      ③ attempt                      ④ avoid

Havana is both the capital city and the leading commercial center of Cuba. This city, officially 36 as one of the New 7 Wonders Cities in May 2015, attracts millions of tourists 37. It is known for its history, culture, architecture, and monuments. However, Barack Obama did not have the chance to fly to the Wonder until March 20, 2016 after 2014 America's rapprochement and 38 of the trade embargo with Cuba. Obama and his family took three hours to get to Havana by Air Force One, while Calvin Coolidge, the last sitting U.S. President to visit the island, 39 three days on a battleship traveling to Cuba 88 years earlier. The 40 of an American President in Havana is truly a perfectly surreal moment!

四、閱讀測驗【請依照段落上下文意，選出最適當的答案】

第一篇：

Forty-four years is a long time to wait for anything, but for Ankie Spitzer it has taken four decades to get the International Olympic Committee (IOC) to hold an official memorial for her husband.

Andre Spitzer was one of the 11 Israelis killed at the 1972 Games in Munich. In the early hours of 5 September, Palestinian militants from the Black September group clambered over security fences at the Olympic Village, made their way to the Israelis' quarters and took a group of them hostage. The militants, who murdered two of the Israeli athletes, demanded the release of more than 200 Palestinian prisoners in Israeli jails. It ended with a botched rescue attempt by German police in which all nine of the remaining hostages, and a policeman, were killed.

Many of her memories still seem raw. "Just a few hours after the murder I went into the room of my husband where they were all held hostage. I cannot even describe to you the chaos when I opened the door of the apartment." That was when she pledged to herself and the man to whom she had been married for just 15 months that she would make sure the world knew about what happened. Their daughter, Anouk, was just two months old when she was left fatherless.

After years of struggle and letter-writing, Ankie Spitzer and the other victims' relatives have the consolation of a memorial ceremony in the athletes' village in Rio, where a memorial stone will be unveiled. It also commemorates the two victims of a bin bomb at the 1996 Atlanta Games and Georgian luger Nodar Kumaritashvili, who died in an accident at the 2010 Winter Olympics.

Mrs. Spitzer, now 70, remains determined. "We'll never give up our hope that there will be a moment of silence at the opening ceremony," she says. That is because the event is watched by billions of people around the world, and is thus the perfect showcase for her message of remembering in order to make sure such tragedy never strikes again.

【1】41. Which of the following was NOT done by the Palestinian militants?

- ① They climbed over the security fences at the Rio Olympic Village.
② They held a group of Israeli athletes hostage.
③ They killed 11 Israeli athletes.
④ They killed a police officer.

【4】42. Which of the following about Mr. and Mrs. Spitzer is TRUE?

- ① When the husband was killed, they had been married for less than one year.
② Mrs. Spitzer witnessed how cruelly her husband was murdered.
③ The Spitzers were barely 20 when the tragedy happened in Munich.
④ Their daughter was only two months old when left fatherless.

【1】43. What is the Palestinian militants' purpose of kidnapping the Israeli athletes?

- ① To demand the release of over 200 Palestinians in Israeli jails.
② To set free over 200 Israeli prisoners in Palestinian jails.
③ To reveal their disapproval of the Olympic Games.
④ To launch a terrorist attack on Munich citizens.

【1】44. Why did Mrs. Spitzer insist on a moment of silence at the Rio Olympic opening ceremony?

- ① She wanted the world to remember her message of preventing such tragedy from recurring.
② She wanted an official apology from the International Olympic Committee.
③ The Rio Olympics would be watched by billions of people.
④ She wanted to show determination to her daughter.

【3】45. Which of the following is closest in meaning to the word "raw" in the third paragraph?

- ① Unfairly treated.            ② Natural and Uncooked.
③ Strong and uncontrollable.            ④ Unchecked and unprepared.

第二篇：

Compared with much of the aging developed world, India is currently in the demographic dividend period that the country's leaders believe will power India's economic ascent as the number of young Indians in the workforce grows. According to a recent Indian government report, over the next 20 years, India's labor force is forecast to swell by nearly a third, while that of the industrialized world will shrink by 4%.

Though there is ample labor force, a mismatch occurs between the supply of jobs, the quality of education, and the demand from India's young people. Because of India's jobs deficit, young Indians scramble to find secure employment. In one example of this mismatch, 2.3 million applications were filed to compete for 368 jobs in the local administration offered by the government of Uttar Pradesh, the most populous state in India. The qualifications for these low-ranking jobs required merely an elementary-school education and the ability to ride a bicycle. Astonishingly, more than 250 applicants with doctorates and over 100,000 college graduates applied for these entry-level posts, which would compensate the workers with less than $250 per month.

To boost secure and skilled jobs for those with higher degrees of education, the Prime Minister Modi launched a high-profile initiative, Make in India, in February 2016 as an attempt to make India an easy place to do business. One of the biggest initiatives the Modi government proposed was to introduce a national goods-and-service tax to replace the local levies and make it easier for companies to buy land for development and expansion.

The hope for a secure and well-paying job, therefore, has motivated many high school Indian graduates to seek help with some form of private tutoring so that they can enter top colleges in India. As said by Vipul Sharma, a 20-year-old high school graduate currently enrolled at a private tutoring center, "I want a good career in a place like Delhi or Mumbai. This is the best way to do it."

【2】46. What is the main idea of this article?

- ① It underscores the importance of tourism in India to boost job openings for young people.
② It reveals the economic advantages and challenges that India is currently facing and states the measures that the government is taking to deal with them.
③ It explains why India is currently in the financial dividend period.
④ It promotes the establishment of private tutoring centers to help young Indians to acquire secure and skilled job.

【2】47. Based on a recent report made by the Indian government, what is the prospect of India's labor force over the next two decades?

- ① The quality will be improving.
② The number will be increasing.
③ There will be more workers for low-ranking jobs.
④ There will be fewer well-paying jobs for young workers.

【2】48. What is the Make in India initiative proposed by the Modi government?

- ① An educational plan for top India's colleges to recruit potential students.
② A financial plan to foster a business-friendly environment.
③ A health plan to lower medical cost to $250 per month on average.
④ A housing plan to accommodate the young students enrolled at private tutoring centers.

【4】49. In one example, 2.3 million people applied for 368 jobs that had which of the following basic requirements?

- ① A doctoral degree and the ability to drive a car.
② A master's degree and the ability to pilot an airplane.
③ A high school education and the ability to run a marathon.
④ An elementary education and the ability to ride a bicycle.

【1】50. What is the intent of establishing a national goods-and-service tax?

- ① It will make it easier for businesses to purchase premises for future growth.
② It will force local people to pay companies the prices they deserve.
③ It will improve the economic outlook of multinational corporations.
④ It will demonstrate the government's commitment to offshore economic interests.
