Remarks of David M. Luna

Senior Director for National Security and Diplomacy Anti-Crime Programs, Bureau of International Narcotics and Law Enforcement Affairs

Good morning.

It is an honor to co-chair this regional meeting in Europe organized jointly by the Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) and the World Customs Organization (WCO). As Chair of the OECD Task Force on Countering Illicit Trade (TFCIT), it is also a pleasure to welcome our partners to mobilize our collective commitment to strengthen international cooperation across sectors to combat the pernicious effects of illicit threats to our economies and communities.

The growth of the global illegal economy is one of the most daunting challenges we face today. Nowadays we see evidence of how today's global illegal economy is imperiling many of our shared interests. Illicit Trade is evolving into a convergence, a multi-dimensional matrix connecting an incredible array of illicit actors, networks, black market facilitators, and complicit financial hubs at critical nodes measured in space and time.

Tackling the issue of illicit trade in Europe and beyond has never been more timely. Criminal networks that are engaged in the illicit trafficking of narcotics, counterfeits, humans, illicit tobacco and illegal wildlife trade, pose not only an economic threat that results in loss of revenue for governments and businesses alike, but also harms the well-being, health, safety, and security of ordinary citizens.

As these threat networks converge, we too must unite. In fact, the illicit trade in products such as counterfeits, illicit tobacco, or antiquities sold across European, and other markets, fuel webs of corruption and criminality – and in some cases, finances terrorist activities across the Middle East and Africa.

Reports in recent years have shown how the trafficking of cultural heritage artifacts, such as stolen antiquities from Iraq, Syria, and Libya, have helped to finance violent campaigns by the Islamic State of Iraq and the Levant (ISIL).

Other forms of illicit trade, such as organized crime and corruption associated in sport or counterfeiting, pose considerable threats to European economic prosperity and physical security. Over the years, counterfeit and pirated goods have not only helped terror groups stay in business, but have enabled them to finance their attacks in Europe and other regions.

I hope that we can expand the network of the OECD TFCIT by adding new members and stakeholders, so as to develop fresh ideas for countering illicit trade.

In the coming year, we also anticipate strengthening public-private partnerships to counter illicit trade in Southeast Asia. This objective will be advanced in partnership with the APEC and ASEAN economies through the APEC Pathfinder dialogue.

In closing, I offer my thanks to all of you and urge your continued dedication to this important work. Your contributions to this policy dialogue will guide our common path forward. Thank you.

「原住民族語言發展法」日前由總統公布，這是我國對於臺灣原住民族語言的保存、使用、傳習及研究發展，以「法制化」方式完整保障所立的一部專法，更是攸關原住民族語言保存及發展的重要法案。此法公布充分展現政府推動原住民族歷史正義及轉型正義的決心，更是臺灣原住民族語言權利保障的新里程碑。

該法三十個條文中，除了確立原住民族語言國家語言地位，更讓族語老師以專職聘任，公文得採中文、族語雙語並列方式書寫及成立財團法人原住民族語言研究發展基金會等入法，這部法律不但強化族語推動力度，更讓族語能力成為「競爭優勢」。

原住民族委員會表示，將積極落實執行該法，為臺灣原住民族營造更友善發展的族語生活環境，以回應族人對原住民族語言保障與發展的殷殷期盼。(完)
