四、閱讀測驗【請依照段落上下文意，選出最適當的答案】

Are you tired of your home country? Do you dream of better opportunities abroad? If you answered "yes", then you and 700 million other people in the world want to emigrate. This figure is more than the entire adult populations of North and South America combined.

The top destination remains the US, even though the economy hasn't fully recovered. Britain, Canada, and France were tied for second because about 45 million wanted to relocate to each of these countries. Spain was third, and Saudi Arabia was fourth. About 25 million people wanted to emigrate to either Australia or Germany. The people who want to emigrate the most come from sub-Saharan Africa. About 38% of adults from this area would like to live elsewhere because Sub-Saharan Africa remains a poor and hopeless place for its inhabitants, and experts guess an even darker future. In contrast, in Asia, only 10% of the population wants to move. Although reasons weren't given, Asia's huge potential for growth likely limited the number seeking lives elsewhere.

However, according to a newly published survey, nearly one in five Singaporeans between the ages of 19 and 30 wish to emigrate, and almost a third will consider the possibility of doing so within the next five years. Those who want to emigrate are likely to be males, better educated and also speak English at home. They also hold positive views towards emigration, and think that it will improve their social status and socio-economic security. And being a permanent resident overseas opened up more opportunities. The most desired country for migration? Australia. Among the other countries most favored by respondents are New Zealand, the US, the UK and Canada. The 2016 survey also found that those who are less likely to think about emigrating believe they can improve their lot in Singapore, and have a higher sense of national pride and life satisfaction levels. On citizenship, more than half (53.1 per cent) of those surveyed said they would not give up their Singapore citizenship even if they got permanent residency overseas.

【1】21. What's the most popular country for immigrants in the world?

- ① The U.S.
② Australia.
③ Singapore.
④ Canada.

【4】22. According to the passage, why aren't Asians interested in emigrating?

- ① They don't want to leave their families behind.
② They are proud of their countries.
③ They can enjoy excellent health care at home.
④ The reasons are not clearly identified.

【3】23. According to the article, which of the following description does NOT fit the Singaporeans who want to emigrate?

- ① They are most likely male.
② They have good education.
③ They are in managerial positions.
④ They speak English at home.

【4】24. According to the passage, why do some Singaporeans plan to emigrate?

- ① Singapore is not a safe country.
② The gap between the rich and the poor is wide in Singapore.

④ They believe more opportunities are available overseas.

【1】25. According to the passage, which description about Sub-Saharan Africa is correct?
